HON. FRANK KEEFER HERE ON TUESDAY

Will Deliver Address to Canadian Club

AT THE UNION.

Will Deal With Problem of Deepening St. Lawrence.

For its second lecture of the season, the Canadian Club has been very fortunate in securing the Hon. Frank Keefer, M.P. for Port Arthur.

The subject of Mr. Keefer's address is one of intense interest at the present moment, and will deal with the problem of the deepening of the St. Lawrence River in order to make it a water highway. A benefit likewise to be derived from the project is an immense increase in available water-power.

Mr. Keefer has been one of the Canadians most prominent in connection with this development; and the materialization of his ideas took place last summer when the International Waterways Commission met in Washington to discuss this very scheme.

At the present moment, the wheat and other Western products, instead of coming directly by boat to Montreal and thence distributed over the whole world, are held up at Port Arthur and other western points, and a great deal is shipped via New York to Montreal. This means for the Canadians a tremendous loss.

The principal aim of the Americans is to develop the water-power—of which they stand much more in need than we do.

Mr. Keefer is one of our rising statesmen and always commands attention by his addresses in the House of Commons. The McGill students are particularly fortunate in being able to hear him speak, and a large gathering should attend. He will speak at the Union at 5 o'clock on Tuesday next.

THE WICKSTEED COMPETITION

Excellent Opportunity For Every Man With Gymnastic Ability.

This competition offers a better opportunity for men to display all round gymnastic and athletic ability than any other event on the University athletic programme. Silver and bronze medals are given to the winners (the gift of the late Dr. R. J. Wicksteed).

The competition is divided into the following three divisions:

1. For students of graduating year; the winner to be awarded the Wicksteed Silver Medal and "M."
2. For students of second and third years; the winner will be awarded the Wicksteed Bronze Medal and "M."
3. For students of the first year. Dr. F. W. Harvey has very kindly donated a Cup for this competition.

The events will follow the same general lines as in previous years with certain changes that will tend to give all an equal opportunity.

The object of this test is to promote a good lively competition on all apparatus, a few simple dance steps and a short drill as well as several athletic events, all of which will be familiar to the men before the competition.

Practice for both the Wicksteed competition and the Intercollegiate meet, which is almost assured, will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, beginning Monday, 24th January, 1921, at the High School Gymnasium, from 6 to 7 p.m. (This will in no way interfere with the baseball practice which is held at that hour.)

It cannot be too strongly urged that every man who has any gymnastic ability or any interest in apparatus work and indoor athletics turn out regularly with the Gym Club at the hours here mentioned. There will be someone present to set the exercises and give individual assistance to all candidates.

Further announcements will be made from time to time regarding the time and place for the meet.

Flirtation is the privilege of youth and the folly of age.

MEDS' DANCE PROGRAMME PROMISING

Tickets Will Be On Sale On Tuesday.

EXTENSIVE PLANS.

Popular Social Function Will Be Held On Feb. 4th.

Plans which have been under way for some time and which are now almost complete, ensure the success of the big social function of the Medical Faculty, the Medical Dance.

The event will be held under the patronage of General Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., and Brig.-Gen. Herbert S. Birkett, C.B., M.D., the patronesses for the evening being Lady Currie, Mrs. Birkett, Mrs. H. C. Burgess, Dr. Maude Abbott and Miss Hurlbutt.

Those who had the good fortune to attend the one held last year will long remember it as one of the most successful of its kind.

The New Medical Building lends itself particularly for such a function in that it possesses a large assembly hall and ample place for sitting-out and in which a tour of the building is always of interest.

Supper will be served in the second corridor, at one sitting, similar to last year. This avoids all delay and prevents the mixing up of dances which often occurs where more than one sitting is the rule.

Decorations will be carried out and many new novelties will be introduced which will lend to the enjoyment of the evening.

An eight-piece orchestra will play for the dancing, and special attention is being paid to the floor to ensure perfect condition for that evening.

The order of dances, which will be announced later, will consist of sixteen dances with two extras—dancing to commence at 9 p.m.

The number of tickets, which will be strictly limited to avoid overcrowding, will be placed on sale by the class representatives on Tuesday morning. There have been more applications received than there are tickets to be allotted, so that those intending to go are advised to communicate with their class representative as soon as possible. The price of tickets is $5.00 per couple.

The committee in charge of arrangements are W. Eakin, chairman; L. McCaffery, W. Archibald, E. R. Watson, M. S. Cooke, A. McLellan, J. G. Ohmsted and W. Murray.

COMMERCIAL SOCIETY.

The Commercial Society are holding a supper in the dining-room of the Union next Monday, Jan. 24th, at seven-thirty p.m. Sir Arthur Currie will be present. Special music is being provided.

The Bible is now printed in 528 languages.

TICKETS NOW ON SALE FOR UNION DANCE

Friday, Jan. 28th, Is the Day Fixed.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE.

Dance Will Be Under Patronage of Sir Arthur and Lady Currie.

Friday, January 28th, the day fixed for this year's Union Dance, is only one week away. Arrangements for the annual event are already far advanced, and the committee in charge are sparing no efforts to make the evening a thorough success.

The dance will be under the patronage of Sir Arthur and Lady Currie, Miss E. Hurlbutt, Professor and Mrs. F. B. Brown, Professor and Mrs. E. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. MacMillan.

The music will be furnished by one of the best seven-piece orchestras in the city, and though the programme has not yet been finally arranged, there will probably be fourteen dances and two extras. Full particulars, however, will be published in Monday's "Daily."

Special arrangements are being made for supper and a new system will be adopted by which it is anticipated unpleasant overcrowding will be avoided. The Union will be attractively decorated for the occasion, and special arrangements are being made to provide additional sitting-out places.

Dancing will start at 8.45 p.m. sharp, and everyone is requested to be on time in order to insure a prompt start.

Tickets are on sale now and may be obtained from the Union porters. The price of five dollars is a modest one for an event of this nature, and those who go may be assured of enjoying themselves to an extent quite incommensurate with the trifling outlay involved.

Meanwhile, only seven days remain, so, follows, if you haven't asked her yet—make it FAST.

MCGILL DEFEATS HIGHLANDERS

Senior Basketball Squad Show Up Well in Friendly Game.

McGill's Senior Basketball squad met the speedy Highlanders last Wednesday in an exhibition match played in the Highlanders' Armoury, and defeated them by a score of 38 to 24.

Unusually clean playing marked this friendly game. It would be difficult to find two more evenly matched teams, and the game was in consequence hotly contested. Several of the Highlanders' players have represented McGill in former intercollegiate teams. Those taking part in this exhibition game will represent McGill in this season's intercollegiate series. So it is easily seen that a first class struggle results whenever these friendly rivals meet. The Senior squad will meet the Highlanders again on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

The line-up of the opponents follows:—

McGill.	Highlanders.
Lalshley...forward	Young
Little...forward	Pitts
Hay...centre	Rourke
Kemp...defence	Klein
L. Kern...defence	Finney
Spares—M. Kern, Crain, Amaron.

There will be a shooting practice for the Seniors at seven to eight in the High School Gym.

NEWFOUNDLANDERS.

An executive meeting of the Newfoundland Club will be held in Strathcona Hall on Monday, Jan. 24th, at 7 p.m. In addition to the executive the following are requested to be present: R. H. Le Messurier, J. O. Fraser and M. Cashin.

Members of the Newfoundland Club are asked to remember the skating on Thursday evening, the 27th.

EASTERN TOWNSHIP CLUB.

Executive meeting on Monday 24th, at 5 p.m., in the Union cafeteria. Special business.

CASE REPUTATION

Primarily a man is known by reputation.

In the eyes of his fellows one may be a good fellow or the mention of one's name may be accompanied by a shrug of the shoulders.

But in the final analysis everything is based on the manner in which one depicts oneself.

That is why the readjustment of prices at the Case Shop each half year is followed with such keen interest by our clientele. Men know us by reputation and we have kept faith.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1921.

The Union Dance, which is taking place next Friday has always been one of the most popular of the entire social season and judging by the arrangements already made, this year's event promises to maintain the high standard already set. So far, however, only a few students have signified their intention of being present, and while this is, of course, due in some measure to the general state of mental agitation and pre-occupation incident upon examinations, the fact remains that for those who wish to attend there only remains a brief few days in which to obtain tickets.

These have been on sale during the past week—a fact of which many students appeared to be unaware, and it is hoped that all who intend going will obtain them as soon as possible. The Committee in charge of the affair are naturally anxious to obtain some idea of the number of guests for whom they must make arrangements, and as it is already late in the day, they specially request that all who desire to attend will obtain tickets without further delay.

There would appear to be few pleasanter ways of recuperating from the nervous and mental strain of the past dreadful week than by availing oneself of this opportunity for relaxation afforded by the Union Dance. Remember the date, Friday, January 28th, and get your tickets NOW.

START TO-DAY!

The mid-term examinations are now almost over in all of the courses and many of the results have been announced. Examinations do not seriously inconvenience the majority of the students, for they have become used to them and treat them as a necessary evil.

To the Freshmen, however, they are the first milestone on the road to their degree, and their success or failure, to a large extent, shapes their future policy. It is not necessary to say anything about the men who are unfortunate enough to fail; they are taught a bitter lesson. It is to the men who are successful in passing their examinations that a word of warning must be given.

The work done at the beginning of the first year is, largely, a condensed synopsis of the work for the matriculation examinations. Many of the Freshmen who have had a good grounding in their pre-matriculation work, find the first term examinations surprisingly easy, and some pass after having done but little work. It is this which causes the downfall of so many of the first year men; they become over-confident of their own ability and are liable to tread the light and easy road until the final examinations loom large before them. They then find it very difficult to absorb all the requisite facts in the short time remaining to them, and a group of supplemental examinations is the result. Many men have been forced to abandon their college course because of failure to pass their first year examinations.

It is impossible for a man to pass examinations unless he has kept in touch with his work throughout the session. By doing a small amount of work regularly it is very easy to review the work at the end of the course, and only a small amount of the necessary "cramming" has to be done. The time to begin this term's is the present. Start to-day.

Reason—Not filling in lists of players on the prescribed cards and disposing of them as called for.

Caution.

(1)—There has been an instance of a man being played who has not been medically examined this year. The Department of Physical Education report all such cases to the Athletic Association and to the Manager. In future any infraction will lead to the loss of the game. No appeal can be received, and subsequent examination will not alter the case.

(2)—To avoid this, lists of players must be submitted to the Department of Physical Education the day before the game. An exact duplicate will be prepared and handed to the referee before the game. Regular line-up and spares will be shown. Forward, D-Defence, G-Goal. The regular cards may be obtained from the Department of Physical Education or at the Rink from the Caretaker, and irregular lists will not be accepted. Initials must be CORRECT and not stand for PET names.

Any further infractions of this rule will simply result in the game being awarded to the side not at fault, and this will not be republished.

(3)—In the event of any trouble arising, should the Manager not be present, he may be obtained by phoning Rockland 831 and inquiring for H. Wyatt Johnston when he can be located.

(4)—Deliberate rough play will be severely penalized. Tripping will receive two minutes, while hacking, jabbing, cross-checking will receive four minutes. Attempts to annoy the referee on the part of a team or supporters will result in loss of the game to the side not offending. Such conduct is simply bad sportsmanship and nothing else, and deserves no sympathy.

Protests.

A protest entered by Medicine '22 claiming Tuesday's game to be in order has been disallowed, as the rules prevent its acceptance.

Protests in future will be left at the Union or at the Rink, care of the Class Hockey Manager, within 21 hours after the game, or they cannot be entertained.

The schedule is republished as amended to date. Kindly cut out and study it.

THE PASSING OF SIR WILLIAM PETERSON

McGill has always been ready to show honor where honor is due. Thus it was with a sense of pride that the University decided to hold a memorial service to her former Principal, the late Sir Wm. Peterson. Owing to the lack of a college chapel, the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul was, last Sunday afternoon, the scene of a very impressive service whereat McGill sought to render a last and fitting tribute to the scholarly gentleman who had led her so ably for many years, but especially through the hard days of war when the University, as its campus, shed verdure and vigor in loyalty to King and Empire.

Although the church was well filled, there seemed but a very few undergraduates in attendance. Surely every student should feel honor-bound to uphold McGill's name as one who never forgets a service rendered, especially one so complete and lasting as that of Sir William Peterson. McGill of former days, however, was in attendance, anxious and willing to show this last courtesy to one whose worth they had proved and appreciated. The Governors, Principal and Staff, together with representatives from other branches of provincial education, occupied prominent positions, lending the necessary academic and official recognition to the gathering.

Dr. D. J. Fraser, Principal of the Presbyterian College, assisted by Dr. E. T. Rexford, Principal of the Diocesan College, the Principal of the University and Dr. F. D. Adams, conducted the service with stately impressiveness and reserve. Yet there was a notable absence of that emotional touch, without which any service of the kind seems lacking. As the catalogue of the merits of Sir William were presented in precise and scholarly tones, the audience sat attentively sympathetic but seemingly cold; one longed for the Celtic fire of a Macnaughton to set that cold sympathy ablaze with personal feeling and emotion—the strains of "Lochaber No More" rather than the "Dead March from 'Saul.'" There was, however, nothing wanting in the enumeration of the late Principal's sterling qualities. As a devout churchman, a "bonny fighter" for Empire, as a scholar and educationist Sir William was fashioned in no mean mould. The Scotch blood in his veins bade him seek in religious expression the intelligent and the mystical, that "far in, deep down" regard for the spiritual, which is the hall-mark of the best of his countrymen. As an Imperialist, McGill's late Principal saw the necessity of unity amongst the whole Anglo-Saxon race, which same he fought for unceasingly with tongue and pen. This effort caused him to be held in high esteem in the United States, where his fame was perhaps greatest in his lifetime. It was no mean honor that was conferred when the academic head of McGill was appointed chairman of the Carnegie Institute for the Advancement of Teaching.

Dr. Fraser dealt mainly, however, on Sir William's merits as scholar and educationist. Educated at Edinburgh and Oxford, McGill's former Principal became President of University College, Dundee, from which place he was called, to be executive head of this University—a position which he held from 1896 to 1919. Always an ardent humanist, he yet knew the value and proportion of theory and practice, tempering perhaps McGill's obvious tendency to over-practicality by a continual appeal for the rightful place of the liberal arts. He felt keenly, too, the twofold duty of a University to make good citizens and at the same time to carry on the torch of knowledge from one generation to another. Although Sir William may have made academic enemies in running counter to various schools, he was never disloyal to his colleagues or ungenerous to those who differed from him in conscientious opinion. Undoubtedly, our late Principal carried McGill's name to honor amongst her sister colleges in America. At home he kept a deep and sympathetic interest in the students—an interest, however, neither ostentatious nor easily expressed.

Always public-spirited, Sir William encouraged the teachers' and instructors of the province to generate and foster enthusiasm for education in the public school both by precept and example. Education, he claimed, was not measured by success in examinations so much as by evidence of good manners, courtesy and public-spiritedness.

Concluding with a personal account of Sir William, the speaker portrayed him as shy, lonely and isolated—a humanitarian scholar in a practical university. His subtle humor, his leisurely activity pointed to the skilled fencer rather than the heavy-weight fighter; he used a rapier often and with success against the heavier bludgeon. Although eager to remain a "home" man, he was advertised with the vulgar and linked with the place-seeker. Sir William's life, in short, has left to McGill a stimulus for noble endeavor; he seems to say, in effect, "Keep your life work always before you, display no half-heartedness or disloyalty, but always strive for the ideal of goodness and truth."

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—
The letter from "H. S. M." in the "Daily" of Friday last should arouse those of us who are interested in wireless telegraphy and telephony.

This gentleman's suggestion is an excellent one, and if properly carried out should in time prove a lasting benefit to those who are in the grip of this fascinating and instructive branch of modern electrical development.

In a University such as this there must be a goodly number who would be glad to join such a club. More-over, from now on radio enthusiasts in Eastern Canada are within reach of first-class wireless telephone concerts transmitted on a regular schedule and wave-length by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. of Canada. These are a resume of current events, supplemented by a few selections of good music.

The University would, I am sure, stand behind and assist a properly conducted club of this kind, and once properly started by competent persons it would certainly thrive.

Hoping that "H. S. M." will receive support in his proposal,
I am,
Yours truly,
S. M. F.

INTER-CLASS HOCKEYISTS ARE ACTIVE

Med. '22 Win By Default From Med. '26.

RESULTS OF GAMES.

Five Well-Contested Matches Have Been Played Since Last Tuesday.

During the examinations Class Hockey has been rolling on merrily, and a clean, fast brand of hockey has been shown. There is a great interest in hockey this season and a good crop of players for the future should result. The absence of any really rough play is very praiseworthy and reflects great credit on the players. Unfortunately there has been a certain amount of slackness on the part of managers and captains who have failed to acquaint themselves with the regulations governing the contests as posted at the rink and as amended in these columns from time to time. This causes confusion, and unless corrected will inevitably result in good teams being disqualified for further competition. Every manager should study the regulations, as by so doing he will safeguard his players and assist materially the Rink Manager in carrying out his duties.

A specific instance is the case of the match between Medicine '23 and Medicine '26, on Tuesday, 18th. Here neither team observed the regulation calling for lists of players to be handed in the day previously to the Department of Physical Education on the cards supplied by that Department for the purpose. In addition, the teams appeared at a wrong hour, and failed to get in touch with the Rink Manager. They assumed that the official referee was a casually, and replaced him, although he appeared at the hour appointed to find the match half over. Under the circumstances, the match has been declared null and void and has been disallowed. As there was some misunderstanding, the game will be played on Saturday, 22nd, from 2 to 3 p.m. An appeal was taken from this decision, but the Regulations expressly provided that an appeal in such a case should not be entertained. Last Saturday the Arts Seniors distinction overseas with the Canadian Engineers. An attack of influenza while on active service led to pneumonia and finally to his removal to Ste. Agathe, where he had been in ill health for some months. He was a son of Hon. Matthew Hutchinson, Law '73, Sherbrooke, Que., and was married to Miss Calista Grace, of Montreal, who survives with one son.

Dr. Charles Everett Graham, Med. '66, died on January 13, at his home in Hull, Que., after a brief illness. Dr. Graham was a prominent figure in Hull and served at mayor of that city in 1878. Two sons and one daughter survive.

went down to defeat before the Freshmen to the tune of 2 goals to 1. The game was fast and clean, the work of the Freshies showing more combination, while the Seniors excelled in stickhandling. The goaltenders were both good, and stopped many nasty shots. The game was followed by a hotly contested tie between the Juniors and Sophomores in the Faculty of Arts, who went the full hour for a 2 all score. This game will be played off to-day at 5 p.m., on the Campus Rink.

On Monday there was a match between Medicine '22 and Medicine '24, in which Medicine '22 succeeded in walking through their opponents for 5 goals while they only suffered two tallies on their part. The victors showed better combination at all stages of the game, but owing to two fortunate tallies the game appears far more one-sided than it really was.

On Wednesday, Dentals '23 gained an easy victory over their opponents to the amount of 12 goals to 0. Dentals '21-'22, who opposed them, were hampered by lack of practice and substitutes, but put up a very plucky fight against superior strength. They are, of course, a small class to draw teams from, and their showing is highly creditable.

Last night Medicine '22 entered the arena with Medicine '26 in the semi-final. "Shag" consented to referee the game, and all players were out to do their utmost under his watchful eye. He is watching the results of class games with a keen and critical eye for promising material for bigger stuff. Med. '22 won by default, as Med. '26 failed to appear.

To-night there will be a double-header. Arts '22 and '23 will play off their tie at 5.15 to 6.15, while Dentals '23 will meet Dentals '24 for the Faculty championship immediately after, from 6.15 to 7.15. As this is the first double-header, a warning will not be amiss. No games can be extended over the hour, so that men should be punctual and not waste time in dressing and at half time.

MATCH WITH QUEEN'S MEN ON TUESDAY

First Intercollegiate Basketball Game

AT KINGSTON.

Senior Squad Will Leave By G.T.R. Early Tuesday Morning.

Last Wednesday evening the McGill Intercollegiate Basketball Squad held the most successful practice so far this season.

Many of the most outstanding faults of the team have been corrected in practice during the last two weeks. Coach Walsh spent considerable time at the last practice pointing out these weak points. Under his capable supervision the team is rapidly rounding into a very smooth-running machine, and Toronto will have to go the limit to even attempt to hold the Red and White.

"Bones" Little has been elected captain. He is playing an extremely aggressive game, and his shooting is spectacular. Lashley is improving wonderfully, and is going strong under the basket for rebounds. The signals are also running smoothly.

Norm Kemp is playing a very fast running guard game, and Lou Kern is up to his old-time form, and everyone knows what Lou is when he gets going. Of course Cec. Hay is playing basketball as usual.

The Basketball Club has been fortunate enough to obtain the Highlanders' Gymnasium for their intercollegiate games. This gym. is in the Armory on Bleury Street, not far below Sherbrooke. This is an unusually large gym., and will hold a large number of spectators comfortably. Tickets for these intercollegiate games will be placed on sale in the near future.

The intercollegiate squad are starting for Kingston Tuesday morning by the G.T.R. for their first game with Queen's on Tuesday night. Fall in, the Thundering Thousand, and give these players a rousing send-off as they leave for their first intercollegiate game.

McGILL SIX BEATEN BY VICTORIAS

First Win of the Season For Vics.

SCORE: 3-2.

Lack of Teamwork Costs Red and White Another Game.

In a hard fought game, Old McGill lost to Victorias in their scheduled game at the Mount Royal Arena on Tuesday night.

The recent cold weather gave them an excellent sheet of ice, and the play was fairly fast, though a little loose at times. Both teams showed a lack of teamwork and combination play. Mulcaire, the new goal-tender for Vics, played a strong game and accounted for keeping the score down, as the McGill forwards gave him plenty to do at times. Timmins in the McGill nets also played a good, steady game and saved many difficult shots.

The play in the first period was close, with neither team having much advantage. After a few minutes of play Lyall replaced Matty Dineen. A good rush carried the puck down into Victoria territory and Lyall scored on a rebound from Behan. Dineen replaced Behan. Behan replaced Lyall. The period ended with the score 1-0 for McGill.

During the second period both teams worked hard. Vics had the edge on McGill to a slight extent and during this period scored their entire count of the game. Dawes scored two and Eric Parsons, the old McGill star, scored the other one. Lyall replaced Gallery. The play was fast but entirely individual. The period ended with the score standing 3-1 for Vics.

The final period was fast and furious and decidedly the best of the game. McGill easily outplayed their opponents, but were unable to overcome the lead. Teddy Behan on a pretty rush, found the nets after 16 minutes of play. McKinnon replaced Dineen, Lyall replaced Gallery. The last few minutes were exciting ones, with McGill trying hard to even up the score, but failed to combine their efforts. The whole team did well individually, but seemed to slip up on teamwork. Behan, Gallery and Davis made good individual plays on several occasions. For Vics, Dawes and McGee did good work. The game ended with a score of 3 to 2 for Victorias.

M.A.A. vs. Shamrocks.
After battling for thirty minutes' overtime they failed to come to a decision, the game being called off with a score of two all. The players on both sides were quite exhausted after an hour and a-half of strenuous play. Shamrocks led by a score of 2 to 1 until thirty seconds to go, when Frank McGill evened the score. The thirty minutes' overtime failed to change the count, and the game was called.

AT THE NEW GRAND

Sylvia Breamer and an all-star cast are being offered at the New Grand Theatre to-day and for the balance of the week in "Unseen Forces". Miss Breamer has the role of Miriam Holt, a girl possessed of peculiar intuitive powers which enable her to foretell certain future happenings. She is known as "the girl who sees around corners".

A childhood romance develops in later years into a real love affair, but a misunderstanding results in the parting of Miriam and her lover, Clyde Brunton. He marries another woman, but quickly regrets the step he has taken, and when he comes upon Miriam in New York, where she has gained fame for the great services she has performed for humanity through her wonderful gift, he knows that he still loves her. A lounge lizard who has been pestering her is the least of Miriam's troubles, but in her heart she has a real problem to solve, and she does solve it as only a "girl who sees around corners" could do.

On the same bill, as an added attraction is offered Jack Pickford in "Just Out of College". It is one of those pictures that would bring a smile to the face of a Sphinx. The story was written by George Ade, when he was at his best. Other features are on the bill. The New Grand Orchestra plays the musical accompaniments.

CITY LEAGUE BASEBALL TEAMS

First Practice at Six To-Night in High Gym.

At six o'clock to-night the first turn-out for the two McGill teams entered in the City and District Indoor Baseball League will take place at the High School Gym.

With the enthusiasm shown by the various teams in the Inter-Class league there is no reason why McGill should not capture the cup this year. As this is the first practice everyone who has played with their class and any others are requested to turn out and try for a place on either team.

For those who do not catch the teams a faculty league is to be organized, and a double schedule will be drawn up. Owing to the fact that the Intermediate and Junior basketball teams are now training at the Highlanders' Armory, their practice hours Monday and Wednesday from 6 to 7 at the High School will be available for the Inter-faculty games. For this reason the faculty representatives are also requested to be at the practice to-night.

This year the Indoor Baseball Club is under the guidance of the Athletic Association and should even better the good work of the club last year.

SKATING IS PROVING TO BE POPULAR

The "Hollow" Rink Now a Vale of Delight.

HURDY GURDY NEXT.

Unusual Interest is Being Taken in Hockey This Season.

The re-opening of the skating season is marked this year by a very great interest and enthusiasm.

With the exception of a few hours a week reserved for Class Hockey for both men and women, the Women's Rink in the "Hollow" is in almost constant use for social skating, and between 4 and 6 every day, except Wednesdays when the men's rink is used for this purpose, a crowd of enthusiasts may be seen enjoying the benefits of open air skating, frequently observed rather enviously by a crowd of interested spectators on Sherbrooke Street. It is hoped that in the course of the next few days arrangements will be completed to have a hurdy gurdy in attendance twice a week from 4.15 to 6.15 p.m.; and also from 8.15 to 10.15 on Tuesday evenings for the fancy skaters who meet on Tuesday evenings throughout the season.

Dr. A. S. Eve has assumed the Presidency of the Fancy Skating Club, and his enthusiasm in furthering the interests of this delightful Canadian pastime deserves the best possible support from the students. Very excellent fancy skaters are often developed from quite unpromising "material"—an encouraging truth for those with ambition. Interest is not lacking this season, and with slight effort a friendly competition with the Winter Club might be arranged with mutual benefit.

The demand for Family tickets is steadily growing among the University Staff, friends and benefactors, there being about thirty-five children now establishing a foundation for their health and—let us hope—skill. The children who skate at McGill today are the prospective supporters of Montreal's claim to supremacy in the world of Winter Sport.

The Men's Rink on the Campus is almost completely given up to hockey, in which there is an almost unprecedented interest this season throughout the University, there being a record attendance of 300 individuals during last week.

Inter-Faculty, Inter-Class, Inter-Fraternity teams, besides the Senior, Intermediate and Junior teams of the Intercollegiate series, as well as teams entered for the City League games—all these have practice hours, and every evening is taken up to 10.15 o'clock, and some evenings until 11.15 for the practice hours of outside teams representing various large well-known business firms in the city.
